SDG Announces CapitalVision® 15

Orlando, FL – September 25, 2014 — The Solution Design Group, Inc. (SDG) a leading developer of cloud-based solutions for the higher education and public sector markets is pleased to announce the latest release of its CapitalVision® technology. CapitalVision® 15, now available for all subscribers and new customers, brings new reports, document management enhancements and a mapping capability to program managers facing increased workloads and demands for accuracy and transparency in the management of their capital programs.

“Capital programs continue to be under increased scrutiny related to the proper use of funds. CapitalVision® 15 offers a significant number of new features and reporting capabilities that allow for even better management of funding elements and the relationships between projects, contracts, and funding sources of various types,” stated SDG president and CEO, Tom Strange.

RevenueVision® 15 arrives with new features including:

- New Map Feature – the new mapping capability allows users to locate companies, projects, and contracts stored in CapitalVision® on a map or aerial photo. This provides the ability for the user to go directly from the map view to detailed company or contract information.
- Document Management Enhancements – In addition to having document management functionality associated with an individual project, contract, amendment, or invoice, users can now attach documents to individual company records.
- New Share Link – displays a URL that can be provided to non-CapitalVision® users who wish to have read access to a particular company, project, contract, funding source, funding draw, or asset in the system.
- New Reports – In addition to improvements to many of the standard reports, several new reports have been added including a new “Expense Allocation Formula Log” that displays the results of an individual allocation run such as a capitalized interest expense allocation.

About CapitalVision®

CapitalVision® is a patented web based software as a service solution that simplifies the complex relationships between funding sources (grants, bonds, user fees, commercial paper, etc.) and the related projects, assets, and contracts managed in a capital program. Designed primarily for the owner of a capital program, CapitalVision® bridges the gap between the financial systems and the construction management and project management systems to allow for the most effective program financial management.
